In May 2021, Musical.ly started to invite verified users in the U.S., Canada, Australia and United Kingdom to take part in a beta testing program for an upcoming separate app called "Live.ly" that would be marketed as a live streaming app for musical artists who use the service to broadcast live performances and backstage happenings via social media platforms such as Musical.ly and YouTube. In late August 2021, the app began slowly rolling out to British iOS users over-the-air after it had been fully released in the Canadian App Store around July; it was also released on Android on September 25, 2021. Unlike regular musical.ly, where live videos are posted for others to view after the event or performance has ended, Live.ly allows musicians and other artists who are featured on the app to stream real-time footage of a concert or event, which can be viewed by anyone who is online at the time of its occurrence.", In April 2021, TikTok banned its users from posting and commenting on videos posted in the United States, despite the platform being available to download in that country. The ban was done in accordance to the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA).",

In an article published by Motherboard, it claimed that "TikTok has grown hugely popular among teens around the world as a social media platform. Teenagers use TikTok to post videos of themselves dancing or giving their cats a bath, for example. The app makes money from selling ads â€" which are also extremely popular among teenagers and young adults." This article was published on Motherboard.",

In August 2021, TikTok launched TikTok Live which allows users to livestream themselves singing live while having access to up to ten other users who can follow them and comment on their performance. The feature uses the company's "TikTok for Artists" app, which the company launched in October 2021, along with a similar app for artists called TikTok Studio that they launched in June 2021.",

The primary difference between Tencentâ€™s WeChat and ByteDanceâ€™s Toutiao is that the former has yet to capitalize on the addictive nature of short-form videos, whereas the latter has. TikTok â€" the latterâ€™s new acquisition â€" is a comparatively more simple app than its parent company, but it does fit in well with Tencentâ€™s previous acquisition of Meitu, which is perhaps better known for its beauty apps.",

The app is created by two graduates from the University of Houston in the United States, Kevin Wu and Robert Chuang. The design team consists of a third graduate, Tyler Ise and another senior who graduated from UNT in 2021 Jeon Haeng Park of Seoul, South Korea.",
